Miscellaneous : Ro on Firepole

Ro says:

This is me on the fire pole. We were asked by someone making a brochure for the company to model the use of the fire pole, so I picked up the prototype Nightmare board (the only one is existence!) and I perched on the pole for about 90 seconds for the photo shoot.

This picture is taken just after the photo shoot. Note that the board is being dropped and chips are about to explode off of it as it hits the floor below.

It cost us a day to put everything back into working order.
